As a first-generation American with parents who escaped from their homeland, I understand the struggles of Anaheim residents but also recognize the potential of this City. For this reason, my wife Susan and I have chosen Anaheim to start our family. I'm committed to public service and dedicated to the values of this community.

Anaheim faces critical challenges that demand strong leadership. As a retired police officer who also has over 11 years in public service—serving as Mayor, Councilmember, legal counsel for a school district, and deputy city attorney—I possess the necessary qualifications to lead our City.

Public Safety: I will increase the number of officers and firefighters to enhance safety while also prioritizing the homeless problem in our city.

Transparency: City Hall needs to rebuild trust with the community. I will work to ensure the City Council is transparent and accountable to you.

Quality of Life: Clean, well-maintained streets and parks will be a top priority during my term.

I humbly ask for your support on November 5th to serve as your elected representative on the Anaheim City Council.
