

KYLE CHANG

Public Health Statistician

I am running for Cypress City Council to bring a fresh perspective to our council, and serve as an advocate for all residents.

As a husband and father of two young children, I am deeply committed to making Cypress an ideal place for families. By prioritizing public safety, high-quality parks, excellent schools, and attracting new restaurants and businesses, we can make Cypress a fantastic place to live, work, and raise a family.

I currently work as a public health statistician and have a PhD in Social Psychology from University of California, Irvine. I've previously worked as an advocate for at-risk children, and conducted research to enhance the quality of life for Orange County residents. With over 20 years of experience working with government agencies and nonprofits, I know how to work collaboratively and get things done.

Now I'm running for Cypress City Council to use my passion for public service and experience working with diverse communities to make Cypress a better place to live. I believe in creating an environment where people have the opportunity to be heard, and in which every resident's voice truly matters. Together, let's build a brighter tomorrow for our city.
