

CHAD WILLIAMS
Navy SEAL Speaker

Born and raised in Huntington Beach, I proudly served our country as a Navy SEAL, representing our hometown in combat. My wife and I are now raising our young children in the same community we were raised in and deeply care about.

With a proven track record of service, leadership, and a willingness to fight for righteousness, my commitment to Huntington Beach is unwavering.

I will fight for public safety as a top priority, to make Huntington Beach the safest city in America. Our police and first responders have my full support, and I will ensure they have what they need to keep our community safe.

I will fight to protect our city from high-density developments that threaten to erode our environment and suburban beach town identity.

I will fight to eliminate homelessness with solutions that provide compassion and help while tackling issues such as open-air substance abuse to protect our citizens.

I will fight to uphold our local control as a charter city, ensuring decisions reflect our values without state interference.

Let's fight for the future of Huntington Beach. Put a Navy SEAL veteran on the City Council. Vote for Chad Williams, and let's make Huntington Beach even greater for future generations.
