

MARK NGUYEN

Engineer

I am running for the Westminster City Council District 3 seat with a vision to propel our city towards becoming a vibrant hub that caters to the needs of all residents and businesses. Central to my mission is the promotion of transparency, accountability, and active community involvement in the decision-making processes, fostering trust and unity within our community.

Drawing from my experience as the current Director and Board President of Midway City Sanitary District, Westminster Planning Commissioner, and engineering manager, I am well-equipped to tackle pressing issues such as city finances, homelessness, public safety, and economic development. I am dedicated in fostering partnerships and exploring achievable solutions to address these challenges effectively.

Our city is brimming with untapped potential, presenting us with unique opportunities amid seemingly insurmountable obstacles. Westminster calls for courageous leadership and fresh perspectives. I urge all District 3 residents to stand with me in rejecting apathy and division, and instead, embrace a path less taken. Let us chose the road of unity and diligence to forge a more promising future for our community. Together, let us transcend our current circumstances and strive for a brighter future. I humbly ask for your support in building a thriving community.
