

ELIA RENTERIA-GARCIA

Nonprofit Development Director

Anaheim is my home. For more than two decades, I have served survivors of family violence, families, seniors, young people, and community partners. That work taught me that public service should be compassionate, accessible, and focused on results residents can see.

As Councilmember, I will listen, communicate honestly, and follow through. My priority is to focus on safer neighborhoods, stable housing, stronger city services, and opportunity for families at every stage of life. I will improve reliable transportation to make programs for seniors and residents more accessible. Support responsible funding for police and fire. I am committed to strengthening mental health response, improving safety and street lighting, and ensuring responsive code enforcement.

I plan to help local entrepreneurs access permits, training, and financing so they can build thriving businesses and create local jobs. By strengthening partnerships with schools, libraries, employers, and community organizations, we can expand after-school programs, improve parks, and create more internships, trade opportunities, and pathways to local careers. City information and services must also be accessible to residents in both English and Spanish.

Residents deserve clear budgets, honest communication and real follow-through. I respectfully ask for your vote.
