JULIE GLOSSBRENNER
Housing Specialist

Decisions made by the Irvine City Council affect our quality of life today and our city's future. Residents deserve a councilmember with the integrity to do what is right, the compassion to understand people, and the sound judgment to make thoughtful, independent decisions.

My professional experience, combined with my education at the University of California, Irvine, has prepared me for this responsibility. I have extensive experience evaluating proposals, negotiating contracts, and solving complex problems. These are the same skills needed to review budgets, development agreements, public contracts, and the many other important issues before the City Council. Careful analysis, thoughtful questions, and informed decisions lead to better outcomes.

Volunteering with Irvine Meals on Wheels, Second Harvest Food Bank of Orange County, and serving on the Board of Directors for UCI Health Family Health Centers has strengthened my understanding of our community and reinforced my commitment of service.

I am dedicated to protecting public safety, preserving open space, supporting responsible growth, and safeguarding Irvine's exceptional quality of life.

I would be honored to earn your vote and serve the residents of District 5.
