Community Volunteer

Mission Viejo is a special community because people care about their neighborhoods and are willing to show up to protect what makes our city work. As a community volunteer, I have seen what can be accomplished when residents listen to one another, work together, and put the community first.

I am running for City Council to bring fresh eyes and a fresh perspective to City Hall. I will listen to residents and make sure community voices are heard before important decisions are made —not after.
Neighborhoods matter. I will work to protect public safety, maintain our streets, parks, and infrastructure, support seniors who want to remain independent in the community they love, and ensure City Hall stays focused on the reliable services residents expect.

I also believe taxpayers deserve responsible budgeting, clear priorities, and straightforward information about how public dollars are spent. Residents should not have to repeatedly follow up to get answers or have basic problems addressed.

Leadership is about more than attending meetings. It means being accessible, doing the work, following through, and showing up for the people you represent.
I would be honored to earn your vote for Mission Viejo City Council, District 4.
