City of Stanton Planning Commissioner

I'm running for the District 3 City Council to bring a strong, committed voice to our often overlooked neighborhoods. As a Stanton resident since 1975, I've dedicated my life to serving our community—six years on Parks and Recreation, current Planning Commissioner, Lions Club member, Boys & Girls Club board member, Neighborhood Watch participant, and a volunteer wherever help is needed.

In my work with Rady Children's Health (CHOC), I helped bring the Wellness on Wheels program to Stanton, expanding medical support for children and families in our city.

Walking every block of District 3, I listened to residents and identified key concerns: homelessness, traffic and parking challenges, and the need for greater leadership transparency. These priorities will guide my work from day one.

Your voice matters. I will ensure your concerns are heard, addressed, and acted on. I will hold city leadership accountable and push for timely, meaningful solutions.

I'm ready to fight for our community and for you.
