MIKELLE FISH
Business Owner

As the owner of a small business management firm serving for profit and nonprofit organizations for over 20 years, I have dedicated my career to helping organizations manage their finances with integrity, accountability, and transparency. I will bring that same commitment to Mesa Water District.

Protecting our water supply requires responsible financial stewardship, transparent governance, and preparation for tomorrow's challenges. I support recording and publishing Board meetings, providing clear and accessible water quality information, and ensuring residents have meaningful access to district decisions.

Cybersecurity must be a top priority. Water systems across the country have become targets of increasingly sophisticated cyberattacks, making it essential that Mesa Water invests in strong cybersecurity infrastructure, regular security audits, employee training, and emergency response planning to protect our critical water systems.

I support practical investments in conservation, groundwater recharge, stormwater capture, recycled water, and water-efficient technologies to strengthen our long-term water reliability. Any future infrastructure decisions should be guided by independent science, fiscal responsibility, environmental stewardship, and the public interest.

I believe well-managed local water agencies provide the accountability and expertise our community deserves. Together, we can ensure a safe, reliable, and sustainable water future for generations to come.
