

DIANE DIXON

California State Assemblywoman

Politics is broken, and Orange County families are paying the price. Grocery bills. Gas prices. Utility costs. Everything keeps going up while career politicians put special interests or advancing their careers ahead of the people they're supposed to serve. I've had enough.

I'm Diane Dixon, a proud, lifelong Conservative and former Fortune 300 executive who got involved because Orange County needed someone to take charge and lead.

As an Orange County State Assemblywoman, I've fought policies that increased taxes and mandates, held government accountable and supported law enforcement. Now, I'm running for the Orange County Board of Supervisors to bring that same leadership home.

Fighting for Affordability

Californians deserve better as families have been crushed and small businesses pushed to the brink. Costly mandates, reckless spending and constant tax increases have made it impossible for families to make ends meet. I'll oppose tax and fee increases, promote policies that help local businesses grow and thrive and work to improve housing affordability. That's why the Howard Jarvis Taxpayers Association has endorsed me. They trust me to make Orange County affordable again.

Stopping the Crime Wave

The most fundamental responsibility of the government is keeping families safe. Yet some politicians have embraced a radical, soft-on-crime ideology that defunded law enforcement and made it harder to lock up criminals. Violent crime and robberies in Orange County have increased since 2021. It needs to stop.

In the Legislature, I authored Alexandra's Law to hold repeat fentanyl dealers criminally accountable, and I've stood side-by-side with law enforcement while others turned their backs on them. As your County Supervisor, I'll take on the soft-on-crime agenda and ensure our sheriffs and first responders have the resources they need, and I'll fight to restore law and order.

Bringing Accountability Back to Government

Orange County residents are fed up with taxpayer dollars flowing to political allies, backroom deals and decisions made without transparency or scrutiny. As your Supervisor, I'll require competitive bidding for contracts, full public disclosure of spending, strict conflict-of-interest rules and full oversight before any major vote is taken.

No more political favors. No more excuses.

Orange County deserves honest leadership and a Supervisor who fights for you. I would be honored to earn your vote.

Diane Dixon: Common-Sense Conservative for Orange County Board of Supervisors.
