We need reform at CUSD.

Reckless deficit spending has created a self-inflicted, multi-million dollar budget crisis that puts our children at risk and resulted in massive program cutbacks —severely diminishing the quality of education.

I oppose the reckless spending of $52,000,000 for a luxurious new administration building — while schools are in dire need of repair and students are crammed into substandard portable classrooms.

As a father of two children and husband of 24 years, I care about our schools and community. I have participated in school and community activities and donated my engineering expertise to community redevelopment.

For 33 years, I have owned a successful Orange County civil engineering firm — I am a proven, effective, results-oriented leader.

My interest in our youth led me to write “Through Different Windows,” a recently published children’s novel.

As an advocate for students, teachers and taxpayers, I will support policies that promote and enhance:

- strong public education; high academic achievement;
- collaboration between teachers, administrators and parents through professional learning communities;
- safe and sanitary schools; adequate classroom supplies;
- conservative fiscal responsibility; and lower taxes.

With your vote I will work tirelessly to restore honesty, integrity and accountability to CUSD.
