

MICHAEL R. FERRALL
CITY OF MISSION VIEJO
MEMBER OF THE CITY COUNCIL

Occupation: Business Owner/Professor

I'm running for city council because taxpayers need strong and effective leadership. Governments tax, spend and regulate too much. Current city council members say they're fiscal conservatives -- they're not. They promised to represent the residents -- they haven't. Residents don't want big-government spending, more development, traffic congestion, affordable welfare housing or cell towers in neighborhood parks.

I've owned a family business for 17 years. I teach public law, government administration and public policy at CSUF and CSULB. I have an M.A. and a Ph.D. from USC. I serve on the City of Mission Viejo Community Services Commission and chair the County of Orange Economic Development Committee.

If elected, I'll fight to eliminate nonessential spending; reduce bureaucracy by expanding privatization; use more low-bid contracting for city services and do everything possible to stop illegal immigration from ruining our schools and clogging our roads and our criminal justice system. I'll fight legal threats to build new affordable welfare housing units.

I'll work hard to maintain essential services like public safety, streets, parks and recreation. I promise to provide leadership, civility and honesty to the voters.

I'm asking for your vote November 7.
